Sun Shines For Sailing Of Big Ship

—On Wednesday

Skies were bright on Wednesday morning and fine weather was forecast for the gala sailing of the newly re-built M.V. Motor Princess around the Gulf Islands. The trip was arranged by her owners, Gulf Islands Ferry Co. (1951) Ltd., prior to her going into regular and frequent service between Fulford and Swartz Bay.

Excitement ran high throughout the entire territory for the completion of the ship's refit heralds a new era in islands transportation. Motor Princess will shortly take over the duties of M.V. Cy Peck between Salt Spring Island and the Saanich Peninsula. Cy Peck will embark at once on a daily service of frequent trips to the outer islands and Swartz Bay, giving many islanders the opportunity they have not enjoyed before of shopping on Vancouver Island and returning the same day.

A BUSY MAN

Gavin C. Mount, Ganges businessman and president of the ferry company, was a very busy man this week attending to final details of Wednesday's triumphal sailing of the big ship. The passenger list reads like a "Who's Who" of this district. Premier W. A. C. Bennett will be an honored guest. Last provincial premier to visit the Gulf Islands was Premier Byron Johnson, who officially opened the Ganges power plant and a provincial park there in 1950.

Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, aggressive minister of highways under whose direction comes the operation of the subsidized ferry system to the islands, planned to accompany Premier Bennett. Businessmen of Sidney, Victoria, Duncan and Nanaimo assembled in large numbers to join the ship's company.

With the sailing of the big ship, capable of carrying 40 cars, on Wednesday morning from Swartz Bay, the eyes of British Columbia were on the Gulf Islands. There was general agreement that the entire islands area is at last coming into its own.

The new summer schedule will go into effect at the end of June, providing continuing service between Crofton and Vesuvius as well.

Five-Day Race Program Opens Here on Saturday

They'll be off and trotting Saturday, June 30th, at 2:30 p.m. at Sandown Park in North Saanich. Percy Kent's Kamiakin pictured here winning a race at Bay Meadows in California is expected to provide tough contention for the best of the Northwest's trotters and pacers during the five-day meet.

Hospitality Not Lacking As Legionnaires Assemble

—On Mayne Island

(J. S. R.)

Comradeship and hospitality were not lacking at the annual dinner of members of the active Gulf Islands branch of the Canadian Legion, No. 84, at Mayne Island Community hall on Saturday evening. As a matter of fact comradeship and hospitality practically overflowed. Legionnaires of the host branch and their visitors from Pender Island branch, Salt Spring Island branch and Saanich Peninsula branch enjoyed to the full the bountiful dinner served by the Mayne Island Community Club ladies and also other light refreshments served before, during and after the dinner.

GRACIOUS HOST

President Walter Kay, of Gulf Islands branch, made a most gracious host. His membership may well be proud of him and the efforts he has continually put forth for the welfare of ex-servicemen. W. W. Hunt-Sowery, hard working secretary, carried his heavy share of the evening's burdens as did every other member of the branch.

Tribute was paid during the evening to Mr. Kay's contribution to the Legion at the annual convention in Vancouver recently by President R. A. Brackett, of the Pender Island branch. Mr. Brackett's words were enthusiastically endorsed.

From Saturna came a strong delegation in two boats. Vice-president J. V. Dibley took charge of them as they landed near his waterfront home and drove them in groups to the hall. Dr. J. B. Haj- (Continued on Page Six)

F.O. ROL D. SIMS

Recently commissioned in the R.C.A.F., F.O. Rol D. Sims is shown above. Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sims, of Sidney, the former warrant officer has served with the R.C.A.F. since 1940. Since October, 1954, he has been stationed at Metz, in France. He will carry out the duties of communications officer at the R.C.A.F. headquarters in that centre. His brother is J. J. Sims, of Sims Laboratories Ltd., in Sidney.

Public Seaplane Harbor Under Fire

WOEFULLY INADEQUATE FACILITIES ARE CONDEMNED

Has the Dominion government fallen down in essential development of Patricia Bay Airport? Local aviation authorities are convicted beyond the shadow of a doubt that such is the case.

Patricia Bay Airport is a very important land and sea air base. It is from the standpoint of seaplanes that facilities provided are most lacking, it is contended.

IMPOSING SIGN

A Review representative was taken to the seaplane base last week by a North Saanich gentleman long and intimately associated with the airport. On the West Saanich Road appears an imposing sign, which proclaims: "Department of Transport, Patricia Bay Airport, Public Seaplane Harbour". Barbed wire and other barricades disagree emphatically with the "public" aspect of the sign.

In order to enter the public harbor, visitors have to summon a uniformed commissionaire by sounding their car horns. Response of the official is prompt and courteous. Interrogation normally follows and if the visitor seeking admission to the public harbor supplies the correct information, he is admitted. The Review representative was successful. He gained admission.

Inspection of the public seaplane harbor proved that it consists of a single float, practically unprotected. It was reported that one aircraft recently was swept away by a heavy swell and suffered considerable damage by being battered on the shore. Absolutely no provision is (Continued on Page Seven)

Story of Famous Trial Here

Chapter XVII
"I NEVER KILLED ANYONE"
Under cross-examination by Mr. Harvey, Inspector Parsons enlarged on comments made to him by Sowash during the journey across the continent.

"Did he make any other statements to you in connection with his participation?" asked Mr. Harvey. "One statement," replied the police officer, "was to the effect that his understanding was that in committing this robbery or coming to Canada for this robbery, there was to be no violence."

On another occasion, said Inspector Parsons, when he was warned that he was under no obligation to say anything, Sowash said, "I never killed anyone." He did qualify it slightly. He added, "Except as a soldier during the war."

Before standing aside, Inspector Parsons stated that "the boy said he tried very hard to get work and he jumped at the opportunity of getting a job."

"As a meal ticket?" queried Sowash's counsel. "That is the impression I got," agreed the police officer.

Next to enter the witness box was John Joseph Delahunty. A gen-

Patricia Bay Personalities

With Four Duties He Is Bowed Under Burden

If the visitor to Patricia Bay Airport observes a slight, neat looking individual deftly jumping from an aircraft mainplane, who trips and falls, it is only to be expected. If the same man picks himself up and walks with a bowed head, it is not an industrial hazard. Ray M. Lamont, "baggage smasher" at the airport, Central Saanich councillor in his spare time, turkey farmer at Keating in the rest of his spare time and civil defence co-ordinator for the cushion area at all times, carries a heavy load on his broad shoulders.

Farmer by heredity, T.C.A. staff member by choice, he inherited the other tasks in token of his enthusiasm for hard work.

Ray is a native son of Central Saanich. His father was one of the founders of the wine industry of the area many years ago. When Central Saanich broke away from Saanich her native son came to the fore and following a series of humorous remarks at election meetings found himself on the council with the fervent support of the majority of ratepayers.

Administration became second nature to him for a number of years, until the burden became too heavy and he withdrew from the public eye. The lack of employment on the second Tuesday of each month became unbearable and at the last election R. M. Lamont appeared on the ballot forms. A steady reception of crosses against his name saw him back on the council with a gratifying support.

Any quiet in Ray's life which he may have enjoyed in his retirement was ousted upon his return to public life. (Continued on Page Three)

Enrolment Heavy At Keating

Attendance at Keating school is likely to be close to 120 pupils next year, Saanich School District board of trustees was advised last week.

In 1953 enrolment was 87 pupils. Next year it is expected to reach 117.

The board approved negotiations for the use of the adjacent Scout Hall as an annex. Overcrowding will be eliminated when the new Oldfield Road school is constructed, it was felt, but the school is lowest in priority on the building program.

TO AID SIDNEY DAY

Saanich Peninsula Art Centre has undertaken a tombola in aid of Sidney Day. The centre is offering a hamper comprising a ham dinner, complete.

Lieut.-Governor To Be Among Saturna Guests

Lambs on Saturna Island have been looking askance at preparations in hand for the past several weeks for the annual barbecue. Started several years ago as a minor entertainment the lamb barbecue has become an important feature of the annual Dominion Day holiday.

On Monday large crowds from all parts of the coastal area are expected on the island to participate in the event. British Columbia's Lieutenant-Governor, the Hon. Frank Ross and his party are expected.

Big feature of the day will be the barbecued lamb dinner. Entertainments of all kinds will be offered before dinner and through the afternoon. Wharfage facilities will be at a premium during the day as cruisers will descend upon Saturna in vast numbers.

Dramatic Expansion of Ferry Services

Few Years Ago Only One Ship and One Captain

It's a far cry from Sept. 30, 1930, when the only regular, daily ferry service in this area was provided by M.V. Cy Peck with Captain G. A. Maude at the helm.

Captain Maude operated the ship under the old Matson company until December, 1950, when the existing Gulf Islands Ferry Co. (1951) Ltd. took it over. He continued as the sole captain, except when he enjoyed his annual holiday.

LOTS OF CAPTAINS

Today, only about five years later, the company operates three ships—M.V. Cy Peck, M.V. Geo. S. Pearson and M.V. Motor Princess—linking Salt Spring Island at two points with Vancouver Island and providing a full service to the outer Gulf Islands as well. These vessels are commanded by Captain Maude, Captain McDonald, Captain Brown and Captain Ruddick. Fifth one, Captain Peck, will be joining the staff immediately. He comes from Vancouver and is a nephew of Col. Cy Peck, V.C., of Sidney.

A RECOMMENDATION

It's also a far cry to the day when Captain Maude, marine superintendent of the ferry company, first went to sea. Practically a native of Mayne Island, he decided in 1911, to follow in his ancestral footsteps and become a mariner. He determined to apply for a posting in New Westminster. It was necessary for him to produce a recommendation from some responsible person. He communicated with J. J. White, of Sidney, who graciously agreed to write the recommendation. Mr. White took pains with his "To Whom It May Concern" document. It commended the services of young George Maude to any prospective employer. He landed the job. And Mr. White's letter of recommendation still holds a place of honor in the Maude home at Fulford.

Mr. White's letter put George Maude on easy street. Employed as a deck hand and coal passer, he served on different coastwise ships for the magnificent sum of $40 per month. He received his captain's papers prior to the First Great War in which he served with distinction as a naval officer.

SIDNEY COMMISSION COMMENTS

(BY COMMISSIONER MRS. V. COWAN)

The investigation into the condition of septic tanks on the outside of the village was instigated by A. W. Sharp as village health officer after numerous complaints had been received from village residents. The sewer system was installed to eliminate the odor and annoyance from smelly ditches, and taxpayers who are paying for this convenience have a right to complain if they still have this same annoyance caused now by effluent coming from septic tanks outside the village boundaries.

Those people concerned may contact W. R. Cannon who would be only too pleased to give them advice as to the remedy, without either trying to kid them, or coerce them into joining the village.

And as to that road—it is still a village street, but all I can promise is that it will be discussed this week at the public works committee meeting.

Material and letters for 26 new street signs were ordered today. This is only the beginning and, of necessity, the new signs will be mostly on main thoroughfares.

Next year we hope to be able to complete the whole project.

A Reminder—Did you forget? Your taxes should be paid this week.

I hope you are helping with Sidney Day this year, either by giving a hand if you can or by coming

SON OF SIDNEY COUPLE WINS HIS DEGREE

Only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dore of Hotel Sidney, B. V. Dore graduated recently with his master's degree in electronics from McGill University in Montreal. He maintained a very high scholastic standing while attending the university.

The electronics engineer is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, where he earned his Bachelor of Arts degree. Subsequently he taught on the staff of Central Junior high school in Victoria, before enrolling at McGill three years ago. He is married and has three children.

Mr. Dore will remain in Montreal where he will be employed in the field of electrical engineering.

out to the park on July 2 and enjoying a day that promises to be bigger and better than ever.

DIRECTORY IS GROWING UP IN THIS AREA

B.C. Telephone Company's new telephone directory for Victoria and district, which contains all new numbers and number changes to date, is considerably larger this year than it was in 1955.

Sixteen white pages and eight yellow pages have been added to it, giving the directory a total of 320 pages. In addition 72,000 copies of this year's directory have been printed, an increase of 10,000 over the record 62,000 printed last year. Delivery has recently begun and will be completed by June 26.

A reliable indication of growth within an area, the above increases in telephone "population" reflect prosperity in Victoria and district during the last year.

Today, Victoria telephones total 40,198, an increase of 16,424 over the 23,774 phones in use in May, 1945.

ADVERTISING SCHEME HERE

A group of Sidney merchants has sponsored the preparation of an attractive advertising brochure of an unusual nature.

Harold Fox, Fox's Ladies' Wear, G. A. Gardner, Sidney Cold Storage; S. Dickinson, Van Isle Marine, and Glen Searle, Sidney Hotel Coffee Shop, has promoted a colored photographic reproduction of Sidney to be hung in clubrooms of yachting groups in various parts of the Pacific coast. The pleasing production, which is on show in the establishments of the participating merchants, has been prepared and executed by Vance Bühler, commercial photographer, formerly of Sidney.

Trees, like farm crops, should be used when ripe. Old mature stands deteriorate faster than they grow and should be harvested to make room for the fast-growing young timber.

Here They Come!

Spread across the track and charging down the homestretch comes this field of pacers in a typical racing scene to be witnessed on Saturday of this week and for four days next week at Sandown Park in North Saanich. The meet promises to draw a large crowd every day.

UP ON THE WAYS

Mainly of Marine and Mariners

(By Deckhand)

Is there anything more pleasant than a quick flit away from the steady downbeat of daily business? The Helmsman and the Deckhand bade farewell to the Cove last week, worries and routine carefully tucked under the nearest boathouse and all work and responsibility firmly taken in hand by the shipyard's crew.

It was a beautiful day and the little car, feeling slightly embarrassed with its missing tooth, found quiet roads and quaint corners and gently coughed its way over the Brentwood Ferry and up to Genoa Bay. This interesting spot has had many a writeup and a number of owners, but lately a transformation has taken place and we feel we must tell you a little about it.

A Victoria syndicate is now in possession and the establishment is ably run by Lieut.-Cdr. Jim Golby and his charming wife, Gina, assisted by a capable staff.

The two lodges and several cabins have been luxuriously refurbished and have easy access to a super swimming pool, tennis courts, floats and fishing. Should exercise lose its appeal, the view will provide hours of enjoyment. Seemingly miles away from civilization, a sheltered haven of romantic coves and beaches and yet, with a flick of the wrist you have light, phone, fresh dairy produce from a neighbouring farm and a modern cocktail lounge at your elbow if you so desire.

MYSTERY CRUISE

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Haddock and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nicolson co-hosted a mystery cruise ending at this delightful resort a short time ago. Twenty eight guests assembled for cocktails at the Haddock home at 7 p.m. and were duly installed in a "Whiteline" bus, whisked over the Malahat down to Cowichan Bay, where they boarded the Wilfred Peck Ferry and crossed over to Genoa Bay. On arrival, a sumptuous dinner was served in front of the massive Swedish fireplace; dancing followed, music being provided by Ernie Pullerton of the Homesteaders, and the picture was completed by soft colored lights playing down on the lawn and open verandah of the lodge until it was time for the homeward journey. A grand way to spend an evening, a good way to entertain friends—why not try it?

The little car heaved its chassis over a hill and took us down to a well-known hive of activity which we will describe in our next column. In the meantime, here is a bit of brief chat about the boats at the Cove and their owners.

UNLOADING

Jim Genge and family and the Tom Denny's boarded Teluk early one morning last week and headed for Vancouver where they watched the freighter, California, unload Tom's new Danish Motor-Sailor Carine and the Dragon, Two Bits owned by Jürgen Bueas.

After clearing customs, both ships were hastily rigged and soon made their way across the Gulf of Georgia and down to Montague Harbour, where the Ray Denny's ran up to hail the happy yachtsmen in their Bryant Echo. "The Carine sailed on to her summer home on Daphne Island and the speedy little juffball Echo called in at Canoe Cove."

Dr. G. W. Cottrell is her with his daughter and crew on Cimba, a handsome 50-ft. cruiser. All hands were busy painting and dissecting parts of the ship's anatomy when we discovered them. Dr. Cottrell is interested in skin diving and underwater photography and hopes to have time to enjoy his hobby when he is on holiday in August.

MEDICAL COURSE

Dr. W. Hawarth and his wife arrived at the Cove on Windrush with their son and daughter-in-law. Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Hawarth and family, and the R. L. Germann's from Pender Harbour. The Hawarth's son is taking a course in advanced aviation medicine and has just finished a year at John Hopkins and will be leaving shortly for Selma, Alabama.

David Fern had his 22-in. sloop Davyjoy, on the ways for painting this week-end. Tom Jones, of the Patricia Bay Reserve, built the hull and David and his wife made a very successful job of the cabin.

Meko is having her turn on the ways and has kept her owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. K. Feiden busy painting, and Speed Olson had his cruiser Sherry Anne up for painting.

The Flying Haddock took off for Vancouver and the El Clars has taken her place in the lives and hearts of the Courtney Haddocks. The new ship is a 34-footer, Carvel built, sleeps six, has a Buchanan engine and is fully electrified, plus thermostatic heating. A roomy wheelhouse and a good sized cockpit to boot. Don't think this gal will change hands for a long time!

School's out this week—don't forget those lifejackets!

Farce And Drama Comes To Screen In Sidney This Week

"How to Marry a Millionaire" is the rollicking cinemascope hit at the Gem Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Marilyn Munroe, Betty Grable and Lauren Bacall head the all-star cast assembled for this hilarious hit.

For the background of the story, the producer used New York skyline, fabulous harbor, the canyon of Wall Street and Sutton Place.

It is the story of three models who want millionaire husbands. Marilyn Munroe plays the roll of a myopic blonde, who is blind as a bat without her glasses. Miss Grable is a comedienne, Miss Bacall is a salty-talking model who hates herself for falling in love with a gas-pump jockey. David Wayne has one of the funniest roles of his career. William Powell is again his debonair self. Rory Calhoun, as a forest ranger, shows Miss Grable how to ski, in some of the most beautiful snow scenes ever filmed.

LUCY GALLANT

Black gold and cloth of gold (oil and women's fashions) are the unusual and explosive mixture that triggers the lusty story of Lucy Gallant, Paramount's tale of the Texas frontier, opening at the Gem Theatre on Monday, July 2.

In Vista-vision and technicolor the hard-hitting drama of the clash of two worlds and two fiery personalities stars Jane Wyman and Charlton Heston and co-stars Claire Trevor, Thelma Ritter, William Demarest, and Wallace Ford.

Set in Texas, Lucy Gallant is the sweeping and spectacular story of a woman who put love aside to build the greatest store in Texas and of the man whose spurned love drove him to the heights in the oil business. An unusual highlight is a dazzling fashion show. Paramount's Oscar-honored fashion designer, Edith Head, makes her debut and presides.

Mr. Rowbottom was the recipient of ten dollars from the management of the Gem Theatre last week.

Accountant

Successfully completing his third year in accountancy C. H. Conlan, of James Island, has two more years to go to graduate as a certified general accountant.

The course is offered by the faculty of commerce and business administration at U.B.C. Candidates must be employed as accountants during the period of the course. Vancouver students attend night school classes, while students outside the mainland city take correspondence courses.

FARMERS TO INDICATE FEED NEEDS

Department of agriculture has prepared a form to be completed by dairy farmers in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island who will find it necessary to buy hay and other forage in excess of normal purchases to maintain their milking herds next winter and who feel it is impossible to do so on their own resources.

A supply of the forms has been forwarded to each rural municipal office in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island. Additional forms are available at the offices of government agents and district agriculturists on the island.

The minister of agriculture urges all farmers who fall into the category outlined above to visit those offices, obtain a form and fill it out immediately.

Completed forms will be picked up on July 6. The information they provide will enable the department to assess more accurately the condition that exists in relation to feed supplies in both areas.

In requesting that these details be provided by dairy farmers concerned, the department points out the government is not making any commitment express or implied. The information appears necessary, however, so that the situation can be examined in its proper perspective.

After the service on Sunday morning of the Brentwood United church, members of the congregation had a luncheon in honor of Rev. A. M. Angus, who has been the minister for the past 16 months and preached his last sermon on Sunday. A. Cuthbert gave a welcome to all to stay to the luncheon. Geo. Moody voiced the regret of all at losing Mr. Angus and paid tribute to his work during the time of ministry at Brentwood. He also expressed the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Angus would often join them in the future. Mrs. G. Bickford, vice-president of the W.A., presented Mr. Angus with a beautiful auto rug and a corsage was presented to Mrs. Angus by the W.A. secretary, Mrs. R. E. Hindley. Rev. G. H. Glover and Rev. J. G. Bonpas spoke a few words of thanks to those responsible for a much-enjoyed luncheon, which was served buffet style to about 100 members of the congregation and guests.

Guests for a few days at the home of Miss I. Shannon, West Saanich Road, were her sister, Mrs. Simpson and son, of Listowel, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hindley, Hagan Road, have had as their guests for a week, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Riddell, from Saskatoon, also Mrs. Hindley's cousin, R. B. Van-natter, from Ocean Falls.

Wren Dorothy Cuthbert from Moseby House, Esquimalt, was the week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cuthbert, Beach Drive. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stewart from Regina.

PAINT ON CLOTHES

The most stubborn paint spots on clothing or other fabrics will yield to turpentine mixed with ammonia and rubbed into the area to be cleaned.

The value of the production of pulp and paper in British Columbia during 1955 exceeded $200 million. Of this total, 53 per cent went to the U.S.A., 19 per cent to off-shore markets

Minister Leaves

REV. A. M. ANGUS

Retiring from his ministry at Brentwood United church, Rev. A. M. Angus plans a holiday in the east. On Sunday he was guest at a luncheon following his last sermon at the Brentwood church. Mr. Angus has been here for the past year and a half.

Minor Damage At Cordova Bay School

C. Roberts, principal of Cordova Bay school reported to the Saanich school board last week that a truck had reversed into a post at the school, supporting the canopy over the playground area. The incident had taken place during a Parent-Teacher function.

Trustees decided to authorize the contractor on the job to carry out the necessary repairs to advise the board of the cost involved.

Over 85 per cent of the production of the kraft pulp industry of British Columbia is manufactured from logging salvage, sawmill residue, and low-grade logs. This represents a direct increase in wealth to the people of British Columbia.

CENTRAL SAANICH

FAREWELL GIFTS FOR MINISTER

A large gathering of members and friends from Brentwood College Memorial Chapel met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Wood and Mrs. M. Gross, Clarke Road, to honor Rev. and Mrs. N. A. Lowe prior to their leaving for Sacramento, Calif.

Frank Meadows, vicar's warden, presented Mr. Lowe with a gold engraved wrist watch and a purse, and Mrs. Lowe was given a handsome travelling case as tokens of esteem.

Earlier in the week the Altar Guild presented Mr. Lowe with a surplice and clerical stole. Expressions of goodwill and appreciation were made. Rev. and Mrs. Lowe are going to the parish of St. Matthew's, Sacramento.

GUIDE NOTES

BROWNIE REVELS

Nearly all the packs in Saanich Division were represented when approximately 160 Brownies, Packies, and Brown Owl Scouts enjoyed the Brownie Revels held on Saturday in Beacon Hill Park.

District Commissioner Mrs. D. Boshier was in charge of arrangements and everyone enjoyed themselves. Highlights of the day were: the ramble through the park, soft drinks and ice cream served at lunch, making lip cups and candy dolls at handicraft time. Not many of the dolls survived the trip home. The candy used to make them was too tempting. St. John Ambulance was in attendance and although there were so many there the only casualties were three bee stings. Every Brownie as she arrived was given a tag to wear showing which group she would belong to. There were Roosters in Rooster Ridge, Robins in Robins Roost, Ducks in Duckie Dell, Squirrels in Squirrel Square, Peacocks in Peacock Palace, Canaries in Canary Corners and Bunnies in Bunny Burrow.

SALT SPRING
Division Commissioner Mrs. F. King, accompanied by Area Commissioner Mrs. F. Midgley and Provincial Camp Adviser Mrs. E. Emmerton visited Salt Spring Island last Saturday. The occasion was the transferring of Salt Spring Island district to the Cowichan district from Saanich. Mrs. Charlesworth, who has been district commissioner of North Saanich for 15 years, has retired. On behalf of the Saanich division Mrs. King presented Mrs. Charlesworth with the Thanks badge. Guides and Brownies of Salt Spring presented Mrs. Charlesworth with a garden chair and a bouquet of flowers. During the afternoon a Brownie Fly-up and Guide enrolment took place on the grounds of Harbor House. Many friends of Guiding and parents of Brownies and Guides attended. The Scout troop provided a color party.

SOLVE A CRIME

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

You are summoned to the hotel room of the visiting actress, Clara Cummings. She is much distraught over the robbery of her jewels. After she has quieted down, she tells you her story.

"I was startled when a grim-faced young man with a gun in his hand suddenly entered my room and demanded the key to my jewel case, then ordered me into the bathroom. I was terrified, but I handed him the key. Before I went into the bathroom another man came into my room. He had a hat on and a handkerchief covered the lower part of his face. They looked me in the bathroom and when my maid let me out about a half-hour later, my jewels were gone. Please, can't you do something about getting them back?"

After making a thorough study of the hotel registrations, and questioning the employees, you finally narrow your list of suspects down to three men—Carter Allen, Tom Barton and Michael Crowley. You

This Isn't It!

The inoffensive fire truck depicted above was sadly maligned by "The Review" last week. Under the caption, "Here it is," the vehicle was announced as that which is causing a major upheaval within Central Saanich. This truck is No. 3, a later model, serving the municipality regularly and efficiently and yet to be the object of the scorn or criticism which has descended upon her sister vehicle, the 1936 International, No. 1. Many fire bugs of the municipality were prompt to call attention to the calumny directed by "The Review" at the uncomplaining No. 3.

Seeks To Resign From Commission On Town Planning

Resignation of Trustee R. C. Derrinberg from the Central Saanich Town Planning Commission was not accepted by Saanich School District last week.

Mr. Derrinberg explained that he took no part in deliberations of the commission and had no vote in any case.

"I hate to see something going on and have nothing to do with it," he said. "There's not much point in being on it."

The Capital Region Planning Board was carrying out a survey of Central Saanich, observed Trustee G. L. Chatterton.

"That's the point," replied Mr. Derrinberg, "everyone else knows all about it. I know nothing." The resignation was not accepted. "You'll get it again next week, anyway," warned Mr. Derrinberg.

determine that one of these three was the gunman who ordered Clara into the bathroom; one of them had been the gunman's partner in crime for several years; and the third was a hotel employee. You also find out that it was a hotel employee who suggested the idea of robbing Clara to the two criminals, although he had not known at the time that they were really professional jewel thieves.

Other information you manage to garner reveals that Carter Allen had registered at the hotel from Buenos Aires, Argentina. That Tom Barton and the gunman, both of whom were college graduates, had served time in Paris, France, for jewel thievery. That this was the first venture into the field of crime for the hotel employee.

After weighing all this information, can you determine who the gunman was?

SOLUTION
The hotel employee cannot be Carter Allen; therefore, he is either Barton or Crowley. Inasmuch as Barton had served time in Paris with the gunman, we know the hotel employee is not the gunman. Hence the hotel employee must be Michael Crowley, and since Crowley had not a criminal record and the gunman had, then the gunman must be Carter Allen.

KEATING

Keating school teachers, pupils, parents and friends enjoyed fine weather for their annual school picnic held at the Saanichton Experimental Farm on Friday, June 22. The children enjoyed races and games. The highlight of the day was the maypole dance done by Mrs. Chatwell's grade one and two pupils. Pop and ice cream were donated by the Keating P.T.A.

A memorable evening was spent on Friday evening, June 22, when the grade six graduates and their parents, teachers and invited guests assembled in the Keating school for a farewell party. Invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ozero, Mr. and Mrs. E. Chatwell, Miss J. Bignore, Mr. and Mrs. Gibb, Mr. Graham, Mrs. Ronnelle and Miss L. Deering. James Allan, president of the Keating P.T.A., introduced Mr. Ozero, principal of Keating school, who spoke to the assembly. He then presented each pupil with an autographed album and a dainty nosegay of hand-made flowers for their mothers and invited ladies. The guest table was centred with a crystal bowl of lovely roses around which the albums topped with a nosegay were placed. The tea table featured a large graduation cake, beautifully decorated by Mrs. J. Allan. A large horseshoe with "Good Luck, Class" centred the cake. A large decorated slate also occupied a prominent place on the tea table, flanked by green and black candle holders and green tapers, nut cups of black and green, school colors, complemented the table decorations. The assembly was divided into three groups for a period of hilarious games to test their wit and wisdom. Refreshments were served with Mrs. J. Allan, assisted by Mrs. J. Whyte, Mrs. A. E. Richman and Mrs. Peace. Convener for the party was Mrs. J. Allan. The following students took part: Margaret Taylor, Gloria Michell, Toni Glenne, Betty Trousdale, Neil Gillespie, Steven Butler, Danny Cronk, Clifford Wood, Gordon Pedersen, Ulrich Liedtke, John Stanlake and John Rounds. Many thanks to all the grade five parents who helped supply the refreshments.

MORE ABOUT LAMONT

lic life. Since the end of last year the council has been faced with one of its most heated years of office.

His new term may well offer experience, but Ray Lamont, in common with his fellow administrators, will never grow fat on the job. Central Saanich councillors have been unpaid since the municipality was formed nearly six years ago.

A man who rarely lets municipal business interfere with his appetite or conflict with his personal affairs, Ray has kept busy at his various tasks and has retained the support of the ratepayers, even when they have not agreed with his views on municipal matters.

Already widely known in the Saanich district, his connection with Patricia Bay has brought an increasing number of people into his ken. He has served at the airport for many years and is almost as much part of Patricia Bay as he is of Central Saanich.

BIG COMMUNITY

Mrs. Lamont was proprietor of a hat shop in Sidney for several years. Both have always taken a keen interest in all affairs of the community. Their community stretches from Victoria to Deep Cove and beyond.

Civil defence has taken Ray much further afield: to Salt Spring Island and up-Island regularly and to Ottawa occasionally.

Always cheerful, Ray has made more friends than enemies and that is a worthy achievement for any man in public life.

David Hancock, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hancock, Bryon Road, joined Frank Beebe and his party, consisting of George Gale, Vancouver, and Dr. Bassett, Leithbridge, Alta., on an expedition to Langara Island off north end of the Queen Charlotte Islands, in search of the Peale's peregrine falcons. They flew to Prince Rupert then took a small fish boat to the island, 100 miles out, crossing in a 50 miles per hour gale. These young birds were obtained by scaling the steep cliffs. David Hancock was lowered over an edge of a cliff to a ledge several hundred feet down where the birds nest, nine of these birds were obtained for the local falconers. David is keeping one for training and sending one bird to a friend in the Southern California Falconer Club. He also brought back one adult bird that had been shot by a fisherman and is now being treated by a veterinarian. These falcons nest on the ledges of high vertical cliffs and feed off the sea birds which live on the island.

Mrs. Karl R. Pedersen, Tanner Road, Keating, returned Saturday in the company of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Perry, whom she was visiting in Sunnyvale, Calif. She also visited relatives in Bakersfield and Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Perry will be her guests for the next three weeks.

A NEW ERA LOOMS

WHEN M.V. Motor Princess goes into daily scheduled service between Fulford Harbor, on Salt Spring Island, and Swartz Bay, on the Saanich Peninsula, a new era for this marine district will be born. Few of us living in this district today can fully visualize the full significance of the new service. But everyone knows that the door to outstanding progress and development for the entire district will be opened.

Just a few short years ago the outer Gulf Islands were served by a C.P.R. boat and Salt Spring Island by the faithful old Cy Peck. The C.P.R. service terminated and a period of transportation havoc followed. To the rescue of many islanders came the Lady Rose. She has proved herself a most reliable transportation link between Steveston and the islands. But many residents felt that her valued service should be augmented by another service tying in with Swartz Bay. When Motor Princess starts her new duties between Swartz Bay and Fulford, Cy Peck will embark on a new phase of her honored career by daily linking Galiano, Mayne, Saturna, Pender and Salt Spring Islands with the Saanich Peninsula. A new era in islands transportation thus dawns.

The new services operated by Gulf Islands Ferry Co. (1951) Ltd., are not niggardly. Between Fulford and Swartz Bay, between Vesuvius and Crofton and between the outer islands and Swartz Bay, the service provided will be on an extremely generous scale. Trips are frequent and timed for the greatest convenience of islanders. Moreover, charges are most reasonable, because a wise provincial government has subsidized the services in order to encourage the growth and development of the Gulf Islands as a vital part of the economy of British Columbia. Every prospect pleases.

All these transportation improvements did not come about by accident. They represented years and years of hard, discouraging work on the part of some citizens with faith in the future of the Gulf Islands. Their vision and effort will now pay off with undreamed of development in this entire territory.

A SERIOUS CHARGE

SOME eyebrows were lifted last week when a group of respected house-holders residing on properties contiguous to the Village of Sidney charged that pressure was being put on them to have their properties embraced within the municipality. They made it clear that they are anxious to have the thoroughfare which serves them improved. This thoroughfare, apparently, comes under municipal jurisdiction. That appears to be the crux of the problem.

These householders were notified by the provincial health officer that effluent from their septic tanks was leaving their properties. They did not deny this charge. They admit that the effluent does discharge outside their properties. They state that this unfortunate characteristic accompanies most other septic tanks in North Saanich. But they alone have been chided because of it—not other North Saanich residents in Deep Cove and Swartz Bay and Roberts Bay and Ardmore. In other words if all North Saanich residents had been ticked off about the problem, they'd think nothing of it. But when those contiguous to the village only were upbraided, they read a hidden meaning into the warning.

The Review does not know, of course, whether any coercion took place. We sincerely hope not. We can understand the village fathers being prepared to welcome near neighbors into the municipality. But everyone will agree that no coercion should take place.

If the thoroughfare is the responsibility of the village, then the village should keep it in the pink of condition. If it needs repair today, the necessary work should be started at once. It should be one of the best roads in the whole municipality.

Here is a task for the village's public relations committee. Members of the committee should waste no time contacting each of the householders in the area affected and convincing them beyond a shadow of doubt that they will be welcomed into the village any time they want to come; but in the meantime there will be no coercion, their road will be kept in good repair, and the final decision must be a voluntary one on the part of each of them.

WORTHY OF SUPPORT

FOR the past several years the Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association has exhibited the art of painless extraction on a planned basis. Since its inception the association has staged a variety of attractions at Sidney Day and on other occasions in the year to produce a gratifying fund for the construction of a hall in Sidney. The funds have been raised by a wide choice of novel means.

Members of the organization have contributed considerable time and money to the project of raising money. Their efforts have already realized more than $11,000 and expectations of approaching the $15,000 mark with this year's Sidney Day are confidently maintained by the sponsors.

The project is a big one and however the association ultimately decides to proceed with the building, the funds required will be extensive. That a community hall is needed cannot be questioned. That the sponsors have made better progress than has ever been made in this direction in the past is beyond doubt. The committee which has worked towards Sidney Day has devoted many hours of discussion and preparation. Individual members have spent time and money on the plans and preparations. It is now with the public to support the event.

Residents of the entire North Saanich area should make a point of attending the day's activities. They should encourage friends from beyond the district to take part in the event.

On Monday the day will open with the parade through the streets of Sidney. Success or failure will be dependent upon the attendance recorded. Sanscha has given of its best, the district must now show co-operation or their efforts are wasted. This year's showing will decide the fate of the community hall. A good turn-out with maximum co-operation can spell the commencement of a hall before the close of the year. A poor turn-out can set it back where it started.

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

First discussion of salaries was undertaken by the new Saanich School District on Wednesday evening. Major subject of discussion was a demand for salary increases amounting to a 44 per cent rise, presented by Saanich teachers. Compromise proposals were made and that of Chairman Martin Neilson was ultimately accepted.

Four Sidney residents were treated at Royal Jubilee hospital in Victoria on Tuesday morning when the car driven by Frank Miller ran off the road following a tire blow-out. All released after treatment were: Mr. Miller, Miss Trudy Steel, Ken Newman and Gordon Brethour.

New real estate business has been opened in Sidney. A. & B.C. Realty has been formed by R.C.A.F. veteran, R. Fred Anderson and former Torontonians, E. W. Buse. James Speedie, who has been selling insurance since his discharge from the R.C.A.F., will also make his headquarters at the Beacon Ave. office of the firm.

A. N. Lindskog, who has recently gained his discharge from the navy has been spending six weeks at Ganges with his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McDermott. With his wife and daughter, he returned to Red Deer, Alta., on Saturday to assume his new duties as assistant manager of Whyte Motors.

Party and miscellaneous shower at the Pender Island home of Mrs. O. Clague on Friday evening was in honor of Mrs. J. Ruck, a Belgian war bride recently arrived on the island.

Miss Joan Hume and Miss Ethel Smaaback have returned home to Galiano Island to spend the summer holidays with their parents.

Russell Bompas, son of H. A. Bompas, Saanichton, has returned home after five years' service with the army overseas.

Miss Edith Edwards, R.N., recently of King's Daughters' hospital, Duncan, arrived last week at Ganges, where she has joined the staff of the Lady Minto hospital.

Miss R. Payne, who has been nursing with the United States army, has returned to her home at Mayne Island after several years abroad.

James Wright gained the St. John Ambulance medallion in the examination held recently in North Saanich high school.

Saanich School Board has tendered for the former Sidney Hostess House. The building is planned as a health centre if the tender should be accepted.

20 YEARS AGO

Capacity crowd filled the North Saanich Service Club on Saturday evening when the first meeting of the new North Saanich Consolidated School District was held. There were 310 ballots cast for the election of trustees of the new district. Successful candidates were J. J. White, Mrs. George McLean, A. S.

Warrender, R. H. Chappell and Alan Calvert. Unsuccessful in the balloting were Dr. W. Newton, W. H. Lowe, George Sangster, Charles E. Toomer, A. Sansbury, W. A. Stacey, Mrs. G. Martin, Mrs. F. R. Cruickshank. The new school district is the combination of Sidney, North Saanich and Deep Cove school districts.

Staff-of-Life Bakery in Sidney has been taken over by Mr. and Mrs. H. Gibson, of Marine Drive. The new proprietors have been connected with the bakery business previously. The business was formerly operated by Rowbottom and Son.

Gardens competing in the North and South Saanich Horticultural Association garden contest were judged last week by W. H. Warren, superintendent of parks in the City of Victoria. Top place was taken by H. L. Ricketts. Mrs. B. Deacon was second, with Mrs. W. J. Skinner in third place.

Mrs. I. G. Denroche, accompanied by her niece, Miss Betty Dudgeon, has returned home to Galiano Island after three months' holiday in England and Ireland.

Mrs. F. L. Casselman has returned to her Saturna Island home after a week in Victoria as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bjorn.

Walter Bowerman and Mr. Dobie are engaged in the erection of a summer cottage and pavilion for F. X. Hodgson in the vicinity of Hodgson's Store.

Miss Ada Brethour, of Kansas, U.S.A., is visiting with relatives in the Sidney district. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White.

Mrs. George Borradaile returned to her Ganges home on Tuesday from the Lady Minto hospital. She has been hospitalized for a considerable time.

Sidney police officer, Provincial Police Constable George Helmsing, is searching for the persons responsible for removing customs and immigration signs from the wharf at Sidney. The No Parking signs were also removed.

Rev. F. B. Richardson, of Perdue, Sask., has been appointed to succeed the Rev. J. L. Miller as pastor of the United church at Pender Island. He will assume his new duties about July 9.

30 YEARS AGO

On and after July 1, postage on letters posted in Canada to any point on the North American continent will be two cents per ounce.

When Ganges Preparatory School sent a cricket team to play Duncan Grammar school on Saturday, the local team won with a margin of nine wickets.

George Hafer, of Port Angeles, is visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. Hafer, East Saanich Road, Keating.

Miss Viola Gurton, of Victoria, is spending a holiday at Patricia Bay, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Gurton.

... Letters To The Editor ...

HE LIKES MONTY

Editor, Review,

Sir:

The tribute you paid to Monty Collins, in your recent personality sketch about him, was a very refreshing bit of news amidst all the "tempest in a fire truck" that you have had to report about recently. I would like to add my hearty "amen" to all the nice things you said about him.

During the six enjoyable years I spent on the Peninsula I had to call on Monty many times late at night, early in the morning, at mealtime and at moments of leisure, but he was always willing and eager to go. He never would ask, "Can the patient pay for the ambulance service?" There are many people who serve and serve very well but they always serve grudgingly and as though they were doing you a favor. Monty always served cheerfully and readily as though it were a privilege to serve you.

Your character sketch pictured Monty as being a bit taciturn. With people who were injured or bereaved or ill he was always very gentle and considerate. He could appraise a situation with one glance. If he arrived while I was still working on a patient he would go right ahead, quietly and unobtrusively, to move furniture, clear doorways and get everything ready for his stretcher to be carried through. He would have the stretcher set up in the best possible position to move the patient onto it.

It was no easier for Monty to wash and polish his cars than it was for the rest of us. Many times when I knew he must have been short of sleep, because I had had him up the night before, still the next day I would see him busily washing and polishing to keep his cars in the best possible condition he could.

You know, if Monty's philosophy were applied to some of the problems up there they would not be problems much longer. Regardless of leisure or personal sacrifice his pride in his business kept him working at it until it was all spic and span. Really the chief reason for local self-government is that we can have pride in our communities.

It isn't always a matter of economy that must be considered first, but "Is it good enough for our community?" should always come into the question. This can only be answered by how much pride we have in our community. So whether it is the Ganges hospital, the Central Saanich fire truck or Sidney's new town hall, economy must, of course, always be considered, but it must be balanced by our pride in our community. Even if we have to dig claws to ease the grocery bill, gather driftwood to lower the fuel bill or even baby sit occasionally for the benefit of our community, still the pride we would get from the improvements to our community I am sure would make us happier in the long run, and reward us for any personal sacrifice we would have to make.

So I heartily endorse your stand for a joint building for the town

Around the final turn in a cloud of dust come the harness horses as those in the rear prepare to swing out for a homestretch challenge. An overflow throng from the county fair grandstand lines the fence to cheer the favorites.

Grey Skies and Grey Days

Even in this favored part of the world the sun does not always shine. The grey days of rain and wind place a damper on open-air recreation, but even those days bring a beauty of nature which is missing in the sun. The green becomes greener and the grass lies wet with promise of greater brilliance to come. The skies show the clouds in a variety of formations such as that caught by the camera in this picture.

hall and the school board. When it is finished let us be sure it is one that the community can be proud of.

THEME-SONG

Editor, Review,

Sir:

In Central Saanich we have a new theme-song entitled: "Give me back my dear old fire-wagon."

Also we are faced with a conundrum. "When does a donation become a loan?"

THE QUEEN

Editor, Review,

Sir:

May I take this opportunity, through your columns, of thanking those who so kindly purchased tickets in support of the Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association and in so doing supported my candidature as Sidney Day Queen.

I hope that as a result of their generosity the ambitious projects planned by Sanscha will be realized and I will have the extreme pleasure of reigning over a day which will live long in my memory.

ERRATA

Editor, Review,

Sir:

The report of a Central Saanich council meeting in your issue last week contains errors which should be corrected.

No. 1: Councillor Windsor was reported as using the word "unfortunate" when he said "fortunate". This error makes his sentence sound absurd and should be corrected in fairness to the councillor. It was, no doubt, due to a typing error. We can all make them.

No. 2: You attributed my comment: "No personal remarks please," to a non-personal statement of Councillor Windsor. This makes me appear to be unreasonable. My comment was in reply to his accusation that I was angry.

No. 3: The fire truck pictured in your paper was not the fire truck in question.

No. 4: In reporting the voting on the amendment to the resolution, which was passed you state: "Reeve Brown registered the only 'dissenting vote'". A check at the municipal hall clearly shows, in the minutes, that Reeve Brown and Councillor Lamont voted against getting another lawyer.

I take the greatest exception to the statement by Councillor Peard that advice should be sought from a lawyer other than our municipal lawyer on the grounds that the municipal lawyer had done business with the ex-reeve (myself) and the question might prove an embarrassment. This is a gross insult to both our municipal lawyer and myself. I have never had any personal business with our municipal lawyer, but when Reeve I communicated various municipal affairs to him. This fire truck was never discussed with him.

I understand that the strictly legal advice which he has given in the past has not suited some people. This affront to our municipal lawyer is most inappropriate. I wonder how petty things can get.

A Sacred Duty

God made our land a thing of beauty.

We made our roads, it is our duty To keep these roads a source of pride.

Never to mar the countryside. Paper and tins we must not scatter. No! Never say: "It does not matter." God made this land a thing of beauty.

To keep it thus, our sacred duty. —B.J.F.

It's The i's

(Kansas City Star)

Members of the fair sex and especially those secretaries whose looks exceed their ability can rest assured that chivalry among bosses is not completely dead. This conclusion can be drawn from the gesture of a New York executive who sympathetically rubber-stamps his letters with this notation: "She can't type—but she's beautiful." The man's frankness is to be admired but it also poses a threat in the form of a possible new secretarial philosophy. Something like, "It's not how you dot your i's that counts, but how you roll your eyes."

Curse Of Commons

(Ottawa Journal)

The curse of the Commons is the uproar created by the desktop lids members can bang. A member whose angry voice is no more formidable than that of a courting dove can make himself a veritable North Star with four motors all out when he slams his desk lid. Often it appears the most harticulate members are the best bangers.

TIMBER RESOURCES PROVED LIMITED

When logging began in British Columbia, there seemed to be no limit to timber resources. Today the forest industries must practice forest management to ensure continuous production.

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

The appearance of potted chrysanthemums in the stores for Mother's Day has raised the question in some minds as to how the plants are made to flower at this particular time of year when normally they do not bloom until the fall months.

Many who have seen the lovely potted plants have probably toyed with the idea of growing their own out-of-season blooms. Actually the method of getting them to bloom out-of-season is relatively simple. The chief difficulty is that one must have the necessary equipment and time to devote to it. This means a greenhouse to raise the cuttings and grow the plants.

In addition, during the long days of summer (between March 1 and the end of August) all light must be excluded from the plants 10 1/2 hours in every 24 hours. This simulates the short days of fall and starts the buds developing. The procedure is kept up during the long summer days until the buds show color, after which screening out the light can be discontinued.

For flowering during the short days of the year (between late August and March 1) no screening out of light is needed. The problem then is to stop the buds from forming so a plant of the desired height can be obtained. This is done by giving added light with incandescent bulbs for a few hours each night. By manipulating both electric lights and shading and also by controlling the night temperature a very exact schedule of blooming can be worked out and as many as four crops a year can be obtained from the same greenhouse space.

While the principle is simple it's a job for the experts and experienced growers, so if you have it in mind to grow 'mums for Mother's Day or Dominion Day, first think it over carefully.

IRRIGATION

I have hesitated to say very much about irrigation recently, because everyone is hoping for sunshine and warm weather. However, perhaps the weather will soon change and who knows, another dry spell may be just around the corner. Those of you who are not able to obtain plentiful supplies of water at a reasonable price for irrigating will, of course, be particularly interested in moisture conservation. In this regard I should like to make two suggestions.

One is that when watering your garden area you give it a good watering at each setting. This is much more desirable than applying a light sprinkle to the whole garden area. The idea being that you can only afford to buy a given amount of water and you would like to apply it uniformly over the whole garden area. Light waterings are desirable, of course, for seedlings. If you apply water through a sprinkler it is very desirable to know how much water your sprinkler applies in a given length of time. We have a bulletin that tells you how to make a simple calibration.

The other thought is that you consider mulching with sawdust as it certainly does conserve moisture. Bulletins are also available on this subject.

CANADA THISTLE

On fields where this weed is widespread intensive cultivation continues to be the best practical method of control. The land should be ploughed and thoroughly summer fallowed throughout the growing season.

In September the fields should be seeded down to a cereal cover crop to prevent erosion. Plough down the cover crop in the spring and follow with a hoe crop. The odd thistle which may appear in the Catholic Ladies To Sponsor Tea

Regular meeting of the Catholic Women's League took place recently in the church hall of Our Lady of Grace, Ganges, with the president, Mrs. H. Milner, in the chair.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $176.36.

Final arrangements were made for the sale of work and tea, to be convened by Mrs. Milner and held in the Fulford Community hall at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, July 7.

Tea will be under the management of Mrs. E. G. J. Brenton and Mrs. H. J. Carlin; home cooking and garden produce in charge of Mrs. George St. Denis; rummage, of Mrs. I. Hughes.

The next meeting will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 11. Following the meeting tea was served by Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. M. Gyves.

DAMP PIANO

If the interior of your piano has become damp, which is likely to cause damage, an electric light bulb may be hung inside and allowed to burn for several hours, the dampness will be removed. If this is done occasionally, the trouble will be prevented.

How Much Hot Water Do You Use Each Month?

Plenty of hot water is needed in the modern home ... hot water for bathing, for laundry, for dishwashing, for house-cleaning ... in fact there are over 100 uses for hot water in the average household today.

If you have some non-automatic tank that requires attention down in the basement someone has to climb about 24,000 steps a year.

With a modern automatic electric storage water heater, you can have all the hot water your family wants, 24 hours a day, without any effort on your part. Automatic electric storage water heaters (insulated like giant thermos bottles) provide clean hot water at the exact temperature you require at the low cost of approximately 90c to $1 per person per month for the average family of four.

To get complete satisfaction you should make sure that you get the right size heater for your home. The following table will guide you:

Minimum Suggested Size Automatic Storage Water Heater

No. of Bathrooms	No. of Persons	Capacity in Gallons, Electric Storage Water Heater
1	2 or 3	40
1	4	50
2	3 or 4	60

In the case of larger homes than shown above, ask your appliance dealer or plumber for an individual recommendation.

hoed crop should be dealt with individually.

Where thistles occur in small isolated patches soil sterilants are recommended. Such chemicals as sodium chlorate at 11 to 2 pounds, borate and chlorate-borate compounds at two to three pounds, or CMU at two ounces per 100 square feet, will kill the thistles and leave the soil sterile for one or more years. Since these chemicals are expensive and leave the soil sterile for several years their use is restricted to small patches on crop land.

Top growth of thistles can be set back and seeding prevented in fields of grain by spraying with 2,4-D at maximum dosage recommended for the crop in question. In non-crop land the ester form of 2,4-D in repeated dosages of one pound per acre, will do much to control, if not to completely eradicate the thistle. Best results are usually obtained when the 2,4-D is

Mrs. Ashlee Heads Salt Spring P.T.A. For Further Term

Mrs. E. J. Ashlee was re-elected president at the annual meeting of the Salt Spring Island Parent-Teacher Association, held in the home economics room of the school recently.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Mary Fellowes, vice-president; Mrs. Max Munro, secretary; Mrs. William Jackson, treasurer; program conveners, Mrs. E. H. Gear, Mrs. J. W. Baker, Kenneth Weeks; membership convener, Mrs. Cyril Beech; historian, Mrs. R. Atkins; dental clinic, Mrs. George Hurst; refreshment committee, Mrs. M. White and Mrs. S. Rogers.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $223.59.

The president reported on the forthcoming Colonist swimming lessons, which will be held on Salt Spring Island at Vesuvius Bay and that Mrs. M. Des Marais' grade 3 had won the pennant for this month.

lowes experienced engine trouble in his cruiser en route but made emergency repairs and arrived on schedule. A large group under command of Lieut-Col. Max Hillary with Captain G. I. Denroche as adjutant travelled from Galiano. Salt Spring Island branch was well represented. Secretary John Sturdy acting as their spokesman. Lone representative of Saanich Peninsula branch was the Review man. Nearly 100 were served in the hall which was impressively decorated in patriotic motif.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the welcoming of a new member into the branch. President Kay solemnly accepted the oath of Vincent Henry Robert Briscoe, aged 80 years, a veteran of the Boer War and the First Great War. He waited a long time to join the Legion but plans to enjoy its privileges for many years to come. He was given an enthusiastic welcome into the branch.

Two more senior ex-servicemen were honored during the evening. They were Paul Scoones, of Galiano, who was celebrating his 82nd birthday; and Jimmy Neill, of Mayne, who would not be 82 until the following day. "Happy Birthday" was sung with enthusiasm in their honor. Mr. Scoones won the honors in public speaking but lost out badly to his junior, Mr. Neill, as a vocalist. The latter accompanied himself dexterously on the banjo.

A GOOD INSTITUTION Mr. Scoones impressed on his audience that the Canadian Legion is a very good institution and well worth while perpetuating. Prolonged applause followed his sincere, thought-provoking appeal.

Different speakers were called by the chair to address the gathering and all spoke seriously of the value of the Canadian Legion to ex-servicemen. An active campaign for additional members was endorsed.

Lively singing added materially to the program, some renditions of old war songs carrying far over the waters of the Strait. Comrade Happy, a visiting Legionnaire from Nanaimo branch, won vocalistic honors. His work as a logger has developed his lungs and added to his ability as a talented singer. Piano accompaniment was provided by Mrs. Hillary, of Galiano.

Plans were laid during the evening for an assembly of members of Gulf Islands, Pender Island, Salt Spring Island and Saanich Peninsula Legion branches. A cordial evening was pictured on some convenient island, and a committee will be struck to further the project.

SOME QUESTIONS

The Review had many questions to answer. Some Legionnaires wondered if cars were allowed to park

NEW VESSEL IS LAUNCHED

In the presence of a large and interested gathering, Mrs. O. H. New, of Vancouver and Galiano, smashed a bottle of champagne on the bow of M.V. Mill Bay on Monday evening and officiated at the launching of the fine, new vessel. The ship, built at M.V.D. for Coast Ferries Ltd., will shortly go into service along with M.V. Brentwood on the Brentwood-Mill Bay run.

"Sparky" New, president of the ferry company, was showered with congratulations during the evening. Speaking briefly, he officially received the ship from its builders. "I want to express my sincere appreciation of the good work done by all departments of V.M.D. during construction of the Mill Bay," he declared. "The vessel was built at a most satisfactory price, speaking well for the future of Pacific Coast shipbuilding."

Head of V.M.D., Harold Husband added his congratulations to Mr. New and wished the new vessel pleasant sailing.

Evan Jones, deputy minister of highways, also spoke in praise of on Sidney's streets. Several asked about a man named Sydney Pickles whose name they linked with a certain fire truck. On learning that he was a long time member of the Canadian Legion, they swore to support him through thick and thin. Several were puzzled at being informed he was a teetotaler. Such a man seemed beyond their comprehension. One Social Creditor was encountered. Politics are never discussed in the Legion but this particular Social Creditor was confident that the provincial election would be called about the first of October and that his party would sweep back into power. He felt certain that every seat in the province would be won by Premier Bennett's supporters. His father had been a Conservative, the Legionnaire whispered, but he preferred to do his own thinking politically. Several pledged undying loyalty to Major-General Peakes, V.C., and regretted that they were now in a different constituency and could not vote for him.

NO QUICK MIX

The Review representative was treated royally as a guest at the modern home of Comrade and Mrs. Dibley. The latter, without warning, produced home made bread and apple pie of extremely high calibre. Mayne Island butter was a real complement to the excellent bread. Mrs. Dibley scorns quick mixes of any kind. She is an outstanding cook. It was not the first time that Mr. Dibley and The Review man had slept under the same roof. Both were passengers on the Queen Elizabeth when they went overseas during the Second Great War. As there were more than 17,000 troops on board at that time, the two didn't officially meet until last week. It was pleasant recalling the wartime experience.

Mayne Islanders are enthusiastic over the new ferry services which will be launched soon. They are confident that travel to and from the island will be stimulated by the new services and look for a general upswing in business and rapid population growth.

MRS. J. PEARSON PRESIDENT OF SIDNEY P.T.A.

Mrs. J. D. Pearson was elected president at the annual meeting of the Sidney Parent Teachers' Association recently. Other officers elected were as follows: vice-president, L. Cox; secretary, to be named; treasurer, Mrs. W. Gardner; social, Mrs. C. Cunningham; membership, Mrs. L. McIntosh; program, Mrs. V. Cowan; publicity, R. Morton; health, Mrs. V. Elvedahl; sick and welfare, Mrs. L. James; historian, Mrs. R. Lane. Annual reports showed a very satisfactory year. It was noted that the festival, held earlier in June, was an outstanding success. The tri-light was won by W. Armstrong, of Amelia Ave.

Grade four won the parent attendance picture, which will now be hung in this room.

SIDNEY DAY FLOAT

The committee is working on a P.T.A. float for Sidney Day and a motion was made to purchase a trophy cup for Sidney school girls. The meeting went on record as endorsing the joint occupancy of the new ship. She would be a tremendous asset to residents of the district and tourists alike, he emphasized.

The Mill Bay slid gracefully down the ways and entered the water smoothly. She was escorted to a quay by a tug and was admired by many visitors.

The ship will undergo final adjustments and will go into service shortly, providing half hour service each way between Brentwood and Mill Bay.

administration offices by the school board and the village commission and a letter was sent to the school board in this regard.

Since the required number of participants have now been enrolled, it is expected that the Sidney P.T.A. will sponsor swimming classes at the Y.M.C.A. this summer. The evening closed with an impromptu humorous skit by the retiring executive entitled "Tooner-ville P.T.A."

Sunshine Circle Enjoys Supper

Fourteen members of the Sunshine Circle W.A. of St. Paul's United Church, met at the home of Mrs. E. Willerton, Fifth St., Sidney, early Wednesday evening, June 20. A pot-luck supper was enjoyed before the regular meeting. Mrs. S. Gordon presided over the informal business session.

The financial report showed the group had over $90 in the treasury. It was decided to use part of this to purchase much-needed serving dishes to supplement the W.A. dishes. These will be acquired as soon as they are available. The circle voted to turn over $50 to the W.A. funds.

Short reports were given by the visiting committee and the oulters, full reports by the W.A. and the Manse representatives.

Arrangements were made regarding the church flowers for the summer months. The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. Gordon, with Mrs. R. Cline and Mrs. J. Easton as hostesses.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

PENDER PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON AS SERVICES INCREASE

Expanding car-ferry service to the Gulf Islands means a larger influx of visitors, increased prosperity, and additional responsibility to the travelling public. With this in mind, Pender Island is preparing for a busy season, and a number of "bees" have been held recently, and more are coming up, to provide facilities, and enhance the appearance of the Island generally.

Last week the Port Washington Hall and grounds underwent a "face lifting". The premises were cleaned inside and out, a new roof applied to the kitchen, and a new sink, cabinet, and cupboards installed. Further improvement is contemplated. On Saturday, two

Garden Party At Deep Cove Raises $250 For Church

Rev. W. Buckingham officially opened the garden party of St. John's W.A. held last Saturday at the Brown's residence Madrona Drive. Mrs. R. McLennan, president, welcomed the many guests. Afternoon tea with home-made strawberry shortcake was served under the convensership of Mrs. McLennan, assisted by many workers in the kitchen. Some of the servers were from the C.G.I.T. group.

Conveners of the other stalls were: home cooking, Mrs. R. G. Hider; needlework and aprons, Mrs. C. Aldridge; white elephant and plants, Mrs. W. A. Smith; candy, Mrs. W. Stewart; mystery parcels, Mrs. R. L. Dunlop; tea, Mrs. A. Holder; cashier, Miss W. Brown.

Over $250 was realized. Adding to the color of the afternoon were two gaily-dressed clairvoyants, kept busy reading teacups.

Donation For Past President Of P.T.A.

Mrs. G. C. Johnston, retiring president of Sidney Parent Teacher Association, entertained at a lawn party Friday, honoring the school staff, also the retiring and incoming executives.

On behalf of the association, Mrs. Johnston presented gifts to five members of the teaching staff who are leaving—two to take up principalships within Saanich School District No. 63.

The retiring executive showed their appreciation of Mrs. Johnston's excellent leadership during the past two years by presentation of a corsage and gift.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. Gardner, Mrs. H. Bradley, Mrs. R. Anderson and Mrs. J. D. Pearson.

made for furnishing of gasoline or other requirements to visiting aircraft. One seaplane was tied up there and it occupied the entire float. Just where a visiting craft could have tied up was not clear.

The Review was told that ramps for removing seaplanes from the water are most unsatisfactory. The floats provided were hopelessly inadequate.

"The government's attention has been drawn to the deplorable state of Patricia Bay's public seaplane harbor time and again," said the spokesman. "The answer is always the same—something is going to be done about it without delay. But the necessary work has not been started 's year after year passes by."

Major-General G. R. Peakes, V.C., as member of parliament for this district, has raised the matter in the House of Commons. But Sidney's public seaplane harbor continues a picture of utter dejection. Many people are asking just how much longer this unsatisfactory state of affairs must be tolerated.

Stage All Set For Sidney Day Activities Here

STAN MAGEE IS MOTIVE FORCE BEHIND SANSCHA AND SIDNEY DAY PREPARATIONS

If one were to ask Stan Magee if he were a colorful character, he would not doubt reply, "No, certainly not; I'm decidedly drab!"

The answer would not be accurate. It would, however, be typical of the man. A little shy in public, Stan has a keen sense of humor and of the absurd. Quiet in appearance, he hides behind his glasses a driving force which has been the essence of Sidney Day for the last several years.

Chairman of the ways and means committee of the sponsor of Sidney Day, Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association, Stan has been responsible for many of the novel ideas adopted in recent years by the association to raise money for a community hall. He has also been the spring keeping the wheels in motion. Mrs. Helen Magee has been closely associated with him on these projects and the couple have devoted many, many hours to raising money for the organization.

Stan was born 41 years ago at Banff. His early years were spent in school and his later years were spent in watching other children in school. He matriculated from Banff high school and entered normal school at Calgary in 1933. Until 1940 he taught school.

The advent of war took him to the staff of Canadian Pacific Air Lines. He made his first entry into the field of radio at this time. For a time he was an announcer on the R.C.A.F. on the northwest staging route, before enlisting with the Navy. The crews responsible for the project lived in tents at Norman Wells, heated by natural gas. They drank orange juice instead of water.

An incident he recalls at that time was flying in an aircraft skippered by Sqdn.-Ldr. Ted Holmes. While over uncharted northern mountains the aircraft was struck by lightning. The instruments and radio were put out of commission and the fuselage was punctured in several places. The pilot managed to bring his machine into Fort Nelson without any outside help. Stan figures that he was as near to a sudden end at that time as at any time in his life.

The Sidney radio man did maintenance work on the first American aircraft to travel through Edmonton on the Alaska route to Russia.

Later Stan enlisted with the navy and served as electrical artificer. His service was spent in and out of naval headquarters in Ottawa and radio inspection work. Taking his discharge in Vancouver, Stan brought his family to Sidney in 1946. He opened a radio and electrical store here in partnership with

MAGICIAN

PALLE JANSEN

Fourteen-year-old magician from Saanich Road will be featured in the entertainment program scheduled for Monday at Sidney Day. The youngster is the only member of the junior Magic Circle in the Victoria area and is already an accomplished exponent of the art of prestidigitation and that's conjuring in a big way. The youngster is a grade eight student at S. J. Willis high school in Victoria.

R. J. McLellan. He has never been anywhere else since and never expects to live anywhere else.

BAND LEADER
While spending part of his time making a living in Sidney, Stan has not neglected the community. A very successful junior band in Sidney was in operation several years ago. The members of the band were trained by Stan, he helped to provide instruments and acted as conductor when the band went into operation. The band was a paradox within itself. It was formed to raise money for the community hall projected. It failed because there was no community hall available in the area in which the band could meet and practice. The biggest triumph achieved by the band was a full-scale concert. There was no hall available, so the use of a hangar was negotiated with the department of transport. A special stage had to be built for the affair.

For a time the question of a community hall in Sidney had been toyed with by a number of local organizations. A previous drive for the same target had collapsed as a variety of views failed to meet on a common agreement. The spark was set again when the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club offered the proceeds of a September salmon derby to the fund for a hall.

The sporting club sponsored the Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association, with the co-operation of almost every other organization in the area. The new group was soon termed Sancha for short and that name has remained.

It was at this point that Stan came into the fore. He volunteered for a task with the new group. He got one. He was promptly offered the chairmanship of the ways and means committee. In that capacity he has organized two Sidney Days and a street carnival. He has been largely responsible for the collection of $11,500, including pledges, which is on hand at this time for the community hall.

While the people of the district watch things take shape, few are aware that the force behind the scenes is Stan Magee.

LEGION MAN
A keen member of the Canadian Legion, Stan is in constant demand for his musical abilities and has led a band for many years.

When he and Jack McLellan were in business together they were continuing an association of wartime. They were together in the Edmonton project when both were with the air force northern project for three years. Jack enlisted with the navy. Three weeks later Stan followed his example. When Stan found his accommodation in Ottawa the first man he met on his new duties was R. J. McLellan. Some time ago they split their business, Jack continuing as an electrical contractor and Stan as a radio man. Despite their commercial split they have remained good friends and are invariably closely associated on any project in the community.

Stan has directed his ways and means committee into many channels. He has been behind every money-making scheme projected. As far as his colleagues on Sancha are concerned he will be Stan Magee to Sancha.

SOCREDS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cox, second vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Nanaimo Social Credit Constituency Association, conducted a membership drive on Salt Spring and Galiano Islands last week.

During their stay on the former they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dane at Fulford and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fletcher at North Salt Spring. A social evening with some of the members of Group 3 was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher.

Social Credit Group 3 held its June meeting in the board room of the Mahon hall, Ganges, on Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. J. Bate, Mr. and Mrs. Scot Clarke, R. Underhill and J. W. Baker were appointed delegates to the Nanaimo nominating convention, to be held at Crofton on July 13. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher will be alternative delegates.

RADIO WINNERS

Team of four from the Sidney area will enjoy a night on the town shortly when they take their prize for winning C.J.V.I.'s Quiz Club program last week. The members of the party who will be feted in the city are Mrs. B. J. McLellan, Miss Patricia McLellan, Mrs. Chet Levar and Mrs. C. Whipple.

The character of an honest man is the most enviable of all qualities.

Big Day To Highlight Gymkhana In Program

Feature of attraction of Sidney Day on Monday, July 2, will be the Colwood Trail Riders' gymkhana, to be displayed from 2-4:30 during the afternoon. Commentator will be Alderman Geoffrey Edgelow, of Victoria. The display will include a larger group of horses and riders than the club has brought out at any time before and the week-end horsemen will show their paces in a series of events including novel shows in the Sidney area.

The horse show will include ten events. They will be musical chairs, barrel race, cow skin race, balloon spearing, wranglers' race, blanket race, drills and bareback riding. The exhibition gained a keen following from the first year it was presented during the annual Sidney gala day. It is now an integral part of Sidney Day.

PARADE AT NOON

The day's program will open with the parade of floats from Fifth at Queens to the park. The parade will move off at 12 noon to appear before the reviewing stand at 12:45 p.m. The official program will commence 15 minutes later. In addition to local floats and a few from outside, the parade will include the queen's float supplied by H.M.S. Endeavor chapter, I.O.D.E., sponsors of the queen contest. There will be the Greater Victoria Schools Pipe Band and Scottish dancers. The former are trained by Pipe Major Ian Duncan and the latter by Adeline Duncan. Brass band from the 43rd Medium Anti-Aircraft Regiment of Vancouver, commanded by Col. G. F. Blyth, will be featured with possibly other units in attendance. The Blue Bird Majorettes from Eileen's School of Dancing will be featured in the parade as also will be the Colwood Trail Riders.

At 1 p.m. visitors will be welcomed by Sidney Commissioner Herbert Bradley. Visiting dignitaries will include John D. T. Tisdale, M.L.A., Mayor Percy Scourah, of Victoria, Reeve Arthur Ash, of Saanich and Reeve H. R. Brown, of Central Saanich.

First feature of the afternoon will be the crowning of the queen, Miss Freda Storey. Prizes for the winners of the parade entries will be presented. Judges will be Alderman Edgelow, Mrs. Dorothy Wrotnowski and Reeve Brown.

Approximately 100 Scouts will assemble for a demonstration. They will be led by Freeman King, himself a former Sidney resident and Scoutmaster.

BINGO GAMES
The afternoon will see a series of bingo games, which will be conducted over the public address system.

Scottish dancers will give an exhibition of their art, accompanied by the Scottish pipe band.

Recreation will be specially geared to the young children. At 3 p.m. there will be races for the children, 12 and under. There will also be pony rides, merry-go-round, fish pond, movies and magic show. The magician will be 15-year-old Palle Jensen.

Sidney Rotary Club will sponsor the midway with games of chance and other entertainment. Refreshments and meals will be readily available throughout the day.

Commercial exhibits will include cars, tractors and appliances.

Special feature will be the Hammond electric organ with Reginald Stone. Mr. Stone will offer appropriate music throughout the afternoon.

Troop of clowns and other features will be interspersed with the attractions.

At five o'clock a softball game between Sidney Hotel and Mary's Coffee Bar will attract ball fans.

During the afternoon there will be two naval vessels anchored off Sidney wharf, while the international yacht regatta will attract all kinds of sailing vessels to Sidney.

In the evening a giant bingo from 7:30 to 9:30 will be sponsored by the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, of Sidney. At 10 p.m. a street dance will be held in the village. Vince Butler's orchestra will be in attendance. Admission will be $1, which will also entitle the holder to participate in the Sancha Club. The door prize of a brand-new convertible will be presented during the dance.

Proceeds of the day will be devoted to the funds of Sancha, for the purpose of erecting a community hall in Sidney.

Help Sidney erect a new community hall—attend Sidney Day, July 2.

GUIDE CEREMONIES AT SALT SPRING ARE COLORFUL AS MANY DIGNITARIES ASSIST

On Saturday afternoon a large group of Girl Guide personnel, parents and friends, gathered on Harbour House lawn to honor Mrs. E. Charlesworth on her retirement as district commissioner of the Girl Guide Association for Saanich and Salt Spring Island.

Commissioners present for the event were Mrs. Midgeley, area commissioner for the Victoria; Mrs. Freeman-King, division commissioner for Saanich; Mrs. Emmerton, provincial camp adviser, all from Victoria; and from Duncan, Miss Denny, division commissioner for Cowichan and Mrs. Phillips, district commissioner for Cowichan.

The program began when the prettily dressed fairies (prospective Brownies) took their places around the "Magic Pool". The Brownies danced into their fairy ring. After this the Girl Guides formed their horseshoe and the colors were marched on.

COLOR PARTY

The color party was composed of three Boy Scouts, Terry Wolfe-Miller, Terry Newman and Bob Morris. Mrs. Midgeley, area commissioner for Victoria, then came into the Brownie ring and pinned wings on four Brownies, Nancy Reynolds, Joyce Coels, Elizabeth Beech and Sallie Alexander who were "Flying-Up" to the Guide company. They were met on the other side of the "Magic Pool" by a Girl Guide, Susan Graham, who took them to her captain (pro tem.) Mrs. E. B. MacMillan. She, along with her lieutenant, Mrs. Howard, welcomed the Brownies into the First Salt Spring Island Guide Company. Following this Elizabeth Wells was enrolled into the sisterhood of Guides by Miss Denny, division commissioner for Cowichan.

The Brownies now formed a ring inside the Girl Guide horseshoe and in this setting Mrs. Freeman-King, division commissioner for Saanich, commended Mrs. Charlesworth for the time and effort she had given as Guide captain for 10 years and district commissioner for 14 years. She also expressed regret that Mrs. Charlesworth was relinquishing her commission. On behalf of the Girl Guide Association Mrs. Freeman-King pinned a "Thank You" brooch on Mrs. Charlesworth's dress. Mrs. W. H. Bradley then presented Mrs. Charlesworth with a lawn chair and a bouquet of gladioli on behalf of past and present Girl Guides of Salt Spring Island and friends. Mrs. J. W. A. Green called for three cheers.

RESPONSE

Mrs. Charlesworth was deeply impressed with these gestures and graciously thanked all present. Tea was then served and the afternoon program came to a close with Guide and Brownie Taps.

Prior to the presentation ceremony the commissioners from Victoria were entertained during the morning by Mrs. J. D. de Macedo and Mrs. J. G. Jensen. Mrs. Emmerton, provincial camp adviser, spent the morning with the Guides, instructing them in the method of tent pitching. Commissioners Mrs. Midgeley, Mrs. Emmerton and Mrs. Freeman-King, along with Mrs. Charlesworth and Mrs. Jensen, enjoyed a delightful luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Bradley.

The afternoon tea and the children's party were convened by Mrs. T. Fowler, local association president, and Mrs. A. M. Field, badge secretary. The ice cream for the party was donated by Salt Spring Lands Ltd., for which the association was most grateful.

The agenda for the day was arranged by Mrs. J. W. A. Green, Guide captain, assisted by Mrs. D. H. Hook, Brown Owl.

YOUNG PIANISTS ENTERTAIN

ACCOMPLISHED PERFORMANCES ARE HEARD

A most interesting afternoon was spent at St. George's parish hall last Saturday, June 23, when the pupils of Mrs. Doris L. Crofton, L.R.S.M., entertained an audience of 75 with a delightful program of pianoforte solos, in the performance of which several of the 28 young pianists showed outstanding ability, especially in the more difficult pieces.

During the intermission Florence Fowler, as violinist, accompanied by Moira Bond, gave a delightful rendering of a gavotte and also of the "Sweetest Story Ever Told".

Moira Bond, with her exceptionally fine rendering of Rachmaninoff's Prelude, brought the program to a close and afterwards, on behalf of the pupils, presented Mrs. Crofton with a pottery relish dish.

The performance from beginning to end charmed the audience, which gave it an enthusiastic reception.

PARTICIPANTS

Junior pupils taking part in the performance were: Phillip Rogers, Jean Munro, Roy Ruryck, Barbara

FINAL PLANS ARE SET FOR GARDEN FETE AT FULFORD

Quarterly meeting of St. Mary's Guild, Fulford, was held recently at Rathmore, the home of Mrs. A. Davis. Archdeacon and Mrs. G. H. Holmes and 10 members were present. Mrs. F. L. Jackson was in the chair.

Final arrangements were made for the St. Mary's garden fete, to be held on July 19, at Roseneath Farm, home of the Shaw family. There will be several stalls which will include needlework, home cooking and miscellaneous, ice cream and teas will be served during the afternoon.

Preliminary arrangements were also made for the serving of tea by the guild members at the parish fete on August 1, at Harbour House.

A donation of $10 was made to the Anglican Theological College in Vancouver. The next meeting of the guild will be held on Sept. 23 at the home of Mrs. Jackson. Tea was served by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Jackson.

ROUND DOZEN MAY BABIES

At the Lady Minto Gulf Islands hospital during May there were 270 adult and children patient days, including 12 new born, and 57 patients were under care. There were nine cardiograms, 57 patients X-rayed, 80 films examined and one fluoroscope.

The board of directors of the hospital are as follows: Mrs. Warren Hastings, chairman; W. M. Mount, Archdeacon G. H. Holmes, Mrs. Austin Wells, Mrs. Alexander McManus, Mrs. A. E. Scoones, Reginald Price, J. Bates, George Heinke-

MORE ABOUT HIJACKERS

and had been made by Sowash as an explanation of his statement for Baker's benefit. The package of papers was tied with a strip of blanket and a piece of string was attached.

The papers had then been turned over to the deputy warden, a Mr. Whebell.

Following Delahunty was William G. McMynn, warden of the prison. In reply to Mr. Johnson he stated that the documents found had been passed to him. He was an ex-superintendent of police and was still a police officer "under the act". He had accordingly gone to Sowash's cell and given him a warning that he was not obliged to speak and that anything he said might be used in evidence against him.

The accused man had made a statement regardless of that warning. Sowash had explained that he was trying to communicate with Baker who was in a cell about 18 feet below the tier in which Sowash was held.

Mr. Johnson, at this point, noted that this aspect of the evidence was directed against Sowash alone.

Sowash continued, stated the witness. He explained why he wanted to communicate with Baker. "He told me his object was to get Baker to tell the truth and to admit that he shot the old man in the arm."

The warden then stated that he had opened out one of the magazines found. It was the "World's Work Advertiser". On page 75 was a notation in Sowash's writing, "Look at the end of your tier."

Later Sowash had asked to see the warden and had requested him not to send the papers to the superintendent unless he felt that it was his duty to do so. The warden had replied that he did feel that his duty lay in that direction and the papers had been so forwarded.

In cross-examination the warden explained that the breach of rules was not a general offence in that prisoners were not normally prohibited from inter-communication. In this instance he had specific instructions that there was to be no exchange between the prisoners.

Widow of the murdered skipper and mother of the dead boy, Mrs. Alfreda Gillis testified that her husband had been known as Captain Gillis and that his vessel, the Beryl-G, was that she had seen in Victoria near the C.P.R. wharf.

Gillis had first owned the boat about December, 1922, she stated, for use as a cannery tender. His cannery was located at Harbledown, Alert Bay. Two years later Captain Gillis rebuilt the vessel, completing the job about July, 1924. Mrs. Gillis last saw her husband on August 22, 1924. She understood he was heading for Victoria. She knew little of his business, but received a letter from him, written on September 11. The letter was tendered in evidence that the man had not been heard of since and that he was killed, as the Crown contended. A copy was accepted for the court purpose, while the original was to be held by the widow for the probate of the will.

The following day Inspector Parsons was recalled by Mr. Harvey for a further cross-examination. He was asked whether Sowash at any NHA SMALL HOUSE DESIGNS—With the popularity of bungalows growing in Canada year by year, this three-bedroom house designed by architect A. McPhalen of Ottawa, should prove attractive to prospective home-owners. The L-shape of the house lends itself to good interior layout as evidenced by the complete separation of living and sleeping areas and good circulation between rooms.

The location of the fireplace provides for good furniture arrangement while the well-lighted dining area is handy to the kitchen. The rear entrance provides direct access to the basement. The exterior appearance of the house is enhanced by the living room and bedroom window arrangements and the side-lighting at the front entrance.

The total floor area is 995 square feet while the cubic measurement is 17,300 cubic feet. The exterior dimensions are 44 feet by 29 feet, six inches. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 238, may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

time had suggested that his statement contained details in full. No suggestion had been made, replied the officer.

The case for the Crown had now been heard.

The jury had heard evidence of the discovery of the Beryl-G, adrift in American waters. They had heard of the investigation and the evidence gradually brought to light. The story of a direct connection with Canadian police and government had been laid out as given to his accomplices by Baker. They had seen the Seattle officer who had gained information from the provincial police regarding known caches of liquor and they had heard evidence that such information was not sound. They had then heard of the hi-jackers touring the coastal waters seeking caches that were, in fact, non-existent.

The evidence had taken them to the preparations for the hi-jacking of the Beryl-G and the shambles that had developed in the small cabin.

The scene of the crime had been unfolded before their eyes. The witnesses had described it in differing manners. There was little discrepancy to be found as far as the brutal treatment of the two victims was concerned. They had been shot and mutilated prior to their being cast overboard.

The group concerned with the crime were revealed in their reaction to the incident. The jury heard the tale of the caching of the stolen liquor and of its sale in Seattle. They heard of the petty quarrels between the principals and

Out of The Mixing Bowl

Father's Day Edged With Black

By Muriel Wilson.

Father's Day seems a good time to tell the following little story because it is the story of a father's devotion to his family.

It was a chance encounter last spring . . . he came into the little coffee shop where we were having a snack. An old friend and former business associate whom we had not seen for a number of years. We were down from Salt Spring Island for a day's shopping and he was in Victoria on business. He sat down at our table . . . we told each other about our families, we enumerated our grandchildren and brought out snapshots to show each other. It was good to see one another and renew a friendship of long standing.

When the coffee arrived our friend took a little phial from his pocket and shook a small white pill into his hand. Phenobarb, he said.

The manner of division of the spoils. Each phase of the evidence had drawn the picture of a group of irresponsible robbers watching their prey grow ever more attractive as the alternative sources of liquor became increasingly more elusive.

The jury had two reports of the incident. They had heard that of Strompkins, admitted participant and essential witness. They had also heard the report of Sowash, also an admitted participant. They were left to judge for themselves the degree of accuracy contained in those two reports as they awaited the opening of the case for the defence of the two accused men.

Mr. Lowe opened for the defence when he called Mrs. Ida Baker to the witness box in defence of her son, the accused Baker. (To Be Continued)

Guild President To Reside In Vancouver

Ganges Guild of Sunshine held its usual meeting ahead of time. President Mrs. Frank Sharpe, who was in the chair, is leaving the island within a week. The first vice-president, Mrs. Edward Adams, will afterwards take over her position to the end of the year.

Mrs. P. H. Newham, past president of the guild, presented Mrs. Sharpe with a writing case on behalf of the members and accompanied the gift with the good wishes of all for a happy life in Vancouver. She also expressed the thanks of the guild for the good work Mrs. Sharpe had accomplished in her long association as member and officer of the organization.

Wool was distributed for knitting into socks during the summer vacation for the fall sale, and a working party was planned for Thursday, July 5, at the home of Mrs. E. Parsons, Ganges Harbor.

The picnic, a sandwich set donated by Mrs. Sharpe, was won by Mrs. E. Catto in an afternoon contest conducted by Mrs. John Hennell.

Tea was served by the hostess and other members.

Forest protection and forest management in the 430-square mile Canadian Army camp at Hazelton, N.B., is the responsibility of the Forestry branch, Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

HEARTS OF OAK ARE OUR SHIPS

WORLDWIDE AND FAMED OLD TREE

By D. Leedham Hobbs.

On the south side of my house, just across the road, is one of the "Royal" oaks of the neighborhood. A magnificent specimen, and I learned today that it was one of these huge trees which stood just across the way from the tavern or stopping place where travellers from Victoria paused for refreshment on their way to Keating, Saanichton and Sidney.

I like to think that the badge of our lovely new school is an oak leaf surmounted by a crown, and that the highest honor to be won is the "Silver Oak". There is something very wonderful about an oak tree.

I know our English oaks are of different species. We have a fast-growing tree grown from an acorn from Windsor Great Park, beside our municipal hall. We also have our noses to the grindstone right up until this year."

STARTED TO SAVE

"Well now we have started to save for ourselves, we've promised ourselves that trip and that house. Yes, I'm on the top of the heap now . . . the firm are paying me plenty but it will take two more years. I can't quit before then. These little old pills will see me through," and he patted his coat pocket.

We never saw him again . . . we never will. I wept as I tried to write a comforting letter to Mary. When I picked up last night's paper I read his obituary.

that lovely replica of an old Tudor house, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Maltwood, now called "The Thatch", although, originally, it sported a sign depicting Charles II. hiding in the branches of the Boscobel oak during his flight to Holland, in the time of the commonwealth.

A strange time in our history, that, I possess an old prayer book in which special prayers are written for forgiveness for the terrible sin of regicide, when poor Charles I. was ruthlessly beheaded. Also, in the same book are services of rejoicing, when Charles II. was restored to his rightful position. I'm not saying anything about morals, but somehow, in our long history, the best in the idea of monarchy survive, poor examples, and we, the people know it and can wait. So we have King Charles' oak. In Windsor Park there was, or even is, Queen Victoria's tree and one dedicated to Queen Adelaide and Queen Charlotte.

LONG-LASTING

Oaks can last a long, long time—they are such sturdy trees—trees which made the ships of King Alfred's first English navy. "Hearts of oaks are our ships". And we can read in the Bible, Ezekiel XXVII:6, that of the oaks of Basham have they made their oars.

Why is it that so much of the 15th and 16th century furniture still exists in perfect condition? . . . because the wood used was oak.

Several times oaks are mentioned in the Old Testament. Deborah, Rebecca's nurse was buried under an oak at Bethel, and the place was known as the Oak of Weeping. One wonders whether there are descendants of the oak at Shechem under which Jacob buried or hid all the strange gods and ornaments, chiefly earrings, found in his camp when he and his people decided to serve the one God. All up and down the length and breadth of Great Britain are famous oak trees.

Here in Victoria we have scrub oaks in the uplands. Here in Royal Oak we have some lovely examples. Let us hope that many will be left as land marks to be enjoyed by all who have the good fortune to live in Royal Oak.

YOU LEARN THE Big difference

IN INSURANCE WHEN YOU SUFFER A LOSS!

The big difference in insurance is service. By that we mean . . . the amount of attention that is paid to your needs at the outset to make certain you are adequately protected later.

Service may not seem as important as price right now. It will prove to be all-important later, when you suffer a loss and find you are not covered and cannot collect. That is why we urge you to buy insurance through a local, independent insurance agent.

New Wharves Are Planned?

Survey Proves Projects Feasible

Provincial engineers have completed surveys at Montague Harbor, on Galiano Island, and at Dinner Bay, on Mayne Island, and have ascertained that it would be quite feasible to construct wharves at these two points. Officers of Gulf Islands Ferry Co., operators of M.V. Cy Peck to these islands, are hoping that the government will decide to construct wharves at these points to facilitate ferry service to Galiano and Mayne.

Presently the Cy Peck makes regular calls at Sturges Bay on Galiano and at Miners Bay on Mayne. Federal wharves are used at both of these centres.

ONE HOUR LESS

If the ferry service were switched to Montague Harbor and Dinner Bay, respectively, the Cy Peck could save approximately one hour on each circuit of the islands and it is possible that additional service could thus be provided. In addition, the vessel would no longer have to navigate Active Pass where the tide is constantly swirling.

Montague Harbor is approximately five miles away from the existing wharf but the two points are already connected by highway. Dinner Bay is around two miles away from Miners Bay on Mayne and a short distance of new road would have to be constructed.

RUSH WORK

At both Fulford Harbor and Swartz Bay, on Salt Spring Island and the Saanich Peninsula respectively, work crews are now busy widening approaches to both provincial wharves for the accommodation of M.V. Motor Princess which will shortly be in regular service on the run. Piles had been driven and other structural work done to accommodate the Cy Peck which has a beam of 26 feet. Motor Princess's beam is 43 feet.

The wharf reconstruction work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, workmen putting in a regular shift on Sunday to advance the job.

RETURNS TO HER OLD HOME AFTER 36 YEARS HERE

Mrs. L. May Napper was the honor guest at a farewell party recently, at the Pender Island home of Mrs. V. W. Menzies, when 20 ladies gathered to extend best wishes for a happy future in her new home. Mrs. Napper leaves shortly to reside in San Diego, California, whence she came to the island in 1920, as a bride. She has recently disposed of her North Pender property.

A social afternoon of games and contests was enjoyed, followed by a dainty tea. Servitors were Mrs. Lief Odden, Mrs. Jack Ruck, and Mrs. Leslie Bowerman. Mrs. Napper was presented with a handsome leather writing portfolio from the assembled friends, many of whom have been neighbors since 1920.

MRS. W. MURRAY HEADS PENDER ISLAND GROUP

Annual meeting of the Pender Island P.T.A. was held in the school house on Monday evening.

Officers elected for the coming year consist of: Mrs. Wm. Murray, president; Mrs. Max Allen, vice-president; Mrs. N. N. Grimmer, secretary; Mrs. Elmer Bowerman, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Brackett, Mrs. Frank Prior, and Mrs. D. Taylor, directors. The past year's activities were reviewed by the retiring president, Mrs. Ray Brackett.

We should be content with what we have—not what we are.

No Decision On Sharing Of Space

No decision has yet been reached by the trustees of Saanich School District regarding the offer of Sidney village commission to share accommodation for an administrative building.

Last week the offer was discussed and Trustee G. L. Chatterton moved that the offer be rejected.

"On what grounds?" asked Trustee G. F. Gilbert.

Although structurally sound, the proposed building was limited in space, said Mr. Chatterton. The committee considering the move had asked the Capital Region Planning Board to recommend the most suitable location for a school administrative building. Mr. Chatterton also cautioned against any positive move until the plans for North Saanich high school are completed and a picture of the financial position is then available.

There was no seconder to Mr. Chatterton's motion.

"We should not be asked to give an opinion at this time," suggested Trustee J. D. Helps. On the recommendation of Mr. Helps the village was to be advised that a decision would have to await this further information.

GARDENERS PLAN PICNIC

Members of the North Saanich Garden Club and their friends, are invited to take a trip on Sunday, July 8, to visit the Orchid Lily Gardens of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dalziel at Cobble Hill.

The group will leave on the Mill Bay ferry at 2 p.m.

Anyone desiring transportation may leave his name with Mrs. Swayne at The Potter's Wheel, Sidney.

BIG PROJECT UNDER WAY ON PENDER

Residents of the Gulf Islands generally are enthusiastic about a wave of real estate transactions and new construction which is accompanying improved transportation services.

Delegates from North Pender Island attending a Canadian Legion dinner at Mayne Island on Saturday informed The Review of an important building program now being carried out by the active Pender Islands Farmers' Institute. For the accommodation of the travelling public, considerable excavation work was carried out near the wharves at both Hope Bay and Port Washington, they reported. An imposing structure has been erected at Hope Bay, with every detail carefully planned by the architects. A similar construction program is under way at Port Washington.

The visiting Legionnaires spoke with pride of the ambitious project. They were confident that the new buildings will be visited by thousands of wayfarers—both ladies and gentlemen—this season.

BROTHERS IN ISLAND FIRM

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith and family have arrived on Pender Island from Vancouver, and have taken up residence in one of the Lyall Brackett cottages at Browning Harbor.

Mr. Smith has bought an interest in the Hope Bay store, formerly owned by S. P. Corbett, and sold last January to the firm of Millar and Smith.

Norman Millar subsequently withdrew his interest, and is leaving the island to take residence in Vancouver, at the close of the school term.

The new firm of the brothers, Ralph and Bill Smith, will continue operation of the store on the same basis of friendly service it has always provided.

MAYNE ISLAND'S BAR

Contributed To Large Population

Census takers are very busy "counting noses" all over this territory. Wide interest is evident in what the final population of the Gulf Islands will prove to be.

Early census enumerators found that Mayne Island had the largest population of any of the islands. Away back in 1920 Mayne boasted a population of around 200. The 1955 figure may prove to be about half that total.

In the early days Mayne was the centre of highly specialized agriculture and heavy shipments of farm products were made to Victoria and Vancouver. But the principal factor which made Mayne's population larger than its neighbors was the hotel, old timers claim. Mayne had a hotel and the hotel had a bar. These features contributed in a substantial way to the permanent population.

REVIEW MAN TO REPORT ON ENGLAND

Member of the editorial staff of The Review, Frank Richards, will be away from his duties for the next three months. Accompanied by his family, Mr. Richards will pay his first visit to his native Britain since settling in Sidney eight years ago.

During his absence The Review man will keep readers posted on conditions in Britain as he finds them in a series of weekly reports.

TRANSFERRED

T. A. Aiers, immigration officer at Sidney, of Willowone, Third St., Sidney, has been transferred temporarily to Douglas, B.C.

VISITORS COME FROM CAMPBELL RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mellers, of Campbell River, are visitors in the district this week, renewing friendships in Brentwood and Victoria. Mr. Mellers, member of the typographical staff of the Campbell River Courier, paid a fraternal visit at The Review on Monday.
